Product Description

36 AN00 09 Three wheelers BAJAJ RE Cylinder block piston assly: cylinder, piston, piston ring, gasket, spark plug

Production:

It widely recognized for their reliability, durability, and versatility. One of the critical components that contribute to the performance of these vehicles is the cylinder block piston assembly.

The cylinder block piston assembly is an essential part of the internal combustion engine, which powers the Bajaj RE three-wheelers. It operates within the engine's cylinder block, playing a crucial role in converting the energy generated from the combustion process into mechanical power. The assembly consists of several components, including the cylinder block, piston, piston rings, connecting rod, and wrist pin.

The piston is a cylindrical-shaped component that moves up and down within the cylinder bore. It is connected to the connecting rod via a wrist pin, creating a mechanical linkage between the piston and the crankshaft. The piston's primary function is to transfer the force generated by the combustion of the air-fuel mixture to the crankshaft, which ultimately drives the vehicle's wheels.
