The TVS Apache RTR 180 is a motorcycle model, and "Motorcycle handle lever" refers to the handle lever of the motorcycle. On the TVS Apache RTR 180, the lever is typically used to control the front brake and clutch.

Front brake lever: The TVS Apache RTR 180 is equipped with a front brake lever to control the braking system of the front wheels. The rider exerts braking force by pulling on this lever.

Clutch lever: The clutch lever is located on the left side of the motorcycle and is used to control the operation of the clutch. The rider controls the clutch state between the engine and the transmission by operating the clutch lever.

These levers are usually made of metal and have the strength and durability to cope with the various pressures and maneuvers in daily riding.
