Motorcycle chain cover, also known as a chain guard or chain case, is a protective component that covers the motorcycle's drive chain. It is typically a plastic or metal housing that encloses the chain, protecting it from debris, dirt, and other external elements.

The primary purpose of a chain cover is to provide safety and prevent accidents by keeping the chain enclosed and preventing it from coming into contact with riders, passengers, or nearby objects. It acts as a barrier between the moving chain and individuals, reducing the risk of injury or entanglement.

Chain covers also help to keep the chain properly lubricated by reducing exposure to dirt, dust, and moisture. This can contribute to the longevity and smooth operation of the chain and sprockets.

In addition to safety and chain protection, chain covers can have aesthetic purposes as well. They can enhance the overall appearance of the motorcycle by providing a clean and finished look to the rear end.
