Master Cylinder Body: This is the main housing of the assembly and contains the hydraulic fluid reservoir. It is usually made of aluminum or other lightweight materials and is designed to withstand high hydraulic pressures.

The master cylinder assembly is an important part of the braking system of a motorcycle, which is responsible for converting the force of the brake pedal or brake lever stepped on by the rider into hydraulic pressure, which pushes the brake fluid to flow and make the brake organs, such as brake calipers, work properly.

If you are looking for the main cylinder assembly parts of the BAJAJ RE, you can contact us, and WAY-C can provide you with the right model and suitable master cylinder assembly parts to ensure the proper operation of your motorcycle's braking system.
